May 17, 2004 | Supported reading · Words first

Words to know

rights — freedoms and protections people are entitled to equality — having equal rights or standing family — people connected through kinship or lasting care

Talk before you read

Point, speak, draw, or write. Use your home language first if it helps. Take one word at a time with a teacher or partner.

The teacher page at the end gives all seven steps of the vocabulary routine. These everyday and general academic words are teaching choices, not an official WIDA word list.

Massachusetts State House

Read the story

Massachusetts became the first U.S.

state where same-sex couples could legally marry.

Families celebrated having their relationships recognized.

The change followed a state court decision.

Think, talk, and show evidence

1. What happened in this reading? Tell one fact.

2. Who or what is this reading mostly about?

3. Choose a word from the word bank. Explain it in your own words.

4. Look at the picture and its caption. What does it help you notice? Is it from the time of the event?

Try these starters: “This happened in ___. I learned ___. The picture shows ___. My word is ___. It means ___.”

Follow-up reading: The Red Sox win the World Series

2004

The Boston Red Sox won the World Series for the first time since 1918. Fans celebrated after an eighty-six-year wait. Sports can bring people together and become part of a place’s shared memory.

How are the two readings alike or different? Tell a partner one connection. Which event came first?

Original classroom adaptation. Suggested reading levels are instructional choices, not standardized readability certifications. Use professional judgment and learner feedback.

ELA practice: RI.2.1: ask and answer questions; RI.2.2: identify a main topic; RI.2.7: use images and words; W.2.2 and SL.2.1: explain and discuss.

These tasks support selected skills in the Massachusetts 2017 ELA framework; they do not establish mastery of an entire standard.

Answer guidance

Factual anchor: Massachusetts became the first U.S. state where same-sex couples could legally marry. Families celebrated having their relationships recognized. The change followed a state court decision. Goodridge v. Department of Public Health was decided in 2003; marriages began in 2004. Distinguish a ruling from implementation. Discuss equal treatment respectfully, including classmates from many family structures.

Accept accurate main ideas and explanations supported by the text. Vocabulary meanings are in the opening word bank. For picture questions, use the caption and credit below; distinguish what is visible from what is inferred. For comparison, accept a specific connection supported by both readings. Do not require personal accounts of trauma.

Calderón's seven-step vocabulary routine

1. Say and show each selected word. Invite learners to repeat it three times.

2. Place the word in a meaningful sentence connected to this event. Read the sentence aloud and point to the word.

3. Give a precise definition. Clarify which meaning fits this context.

4. Restate it in friendly language using an example, object, gesture, or picture.

5. Briefly highlight a useful sound, spelling pattern, word part, or verified home-language connection. Do not invent cognates.

6. Partners practice the word aloud in a complete sentence. Listen, prompt, and provide feedback before asking for writing.

7. Explain how learners will use the word in the reading and final explanation. Revisit it and check that each learner can use or explain it.

Offer oral rehearsal, a bilingual glossary, extra processing time, text-to-speech, and a choice of spoken, drawn, dictated, or written response. Consult WIDA Can Do Descriptors for language scaffolds. Clear type and spacing can aid access but are not a dyslexia treatment.
