law — a rule made through government

freedom — the ability to live and act without unjust control protection — action that helps keep someone or something safe

Look closely

Modern topic illustration created for Massachusetts History Explorers. It is not a historical artifact.

Read the story

Massachusetts Bay made a set of laws. Some laws offered protections. The code also allowed slavery in certain cases. Enslaved people were forced to work and denied freedom. A law can be deeply unfair.

Think, talk, and show evidence

1. What happened in this reading? Tell one fact.
2. Who or what is this reading mostly about?
3. Choose a word from the word bank. Explain it in your own words.
4. Look at the picture and its caption. What does it help you notice? Is it from the time of the event?

Follow-up reading: Mary Dyer and religious freedom

1660

Mary Dyer was a Quaker. Colony leaders banned Quakers. She returned to Boston to stand by her beliefs. The government put her to death in 1660. Her story shows the harm of religious intolerance.

How are the two readings alike or different? Tell a partner one connection. Which event came first?

Answer guidance

Factual anchor: Massachusetts Bay made a set of laws. Some laws offered protections. The code also allowed slavery in certain cases. Enslaved people were forced to work and denied freedom. A law can be deeply unfair. The code's slavery provision demonstrates slavery's legal place in colonial New England. A document titled liberties did not guarantee liberty to everyone. Read protections together with their exceptions.

Accept accurate main ideas and explanations supported by the text. Vocabulary meanings are in the opening word bank. For picture questions, use the caption and credit below; distinguish what is visible from what is inferred. For comparison, accept a specific connection supported by both readings. Do not require personal accounts of trauma.
