Modern topic illustration created for Massachusetts History Explorers. It is not a historical artifact.

Read the story

The sailing warship USS Constitution was launched in Boston. Many workers helped build it. It later became famous as Old Ironsides. The ship connects Boston to naval history and the War of 1812.

The ship was built before the War of 1812, a different conflict from the Revolution. Study skilled labor, materials, and sailors' experiences alongside stories of battles and famous commanders.

Think, talk, and show evidence

1. State the main idea. Support it with two details from the reading.
2. Explain a change or challenge described in the text. Which words support your answer?
3. Use one vocabulary word in a new sentence about this event.
4. What can the image and caption help explain? What can they not tell you?

Follow-up reading: Waltham's textile factory

1813–1814

The Boston Manufacturing Company was formed in 1813. Its Waltham mill began operating in 1814. Machines and workers turned cotton into cloth. A river helped supply power. Factory work changed communities.

The enterprise brought spinning and weaving together. Cotton connected New England manufacturing to enslaved labor elsewhere. Distinguish a company's founding date from when its machinery began production.

Compare the two readings. Explain one similarity or difference using a detail from each. Their order does not prove that one caused the other.
