Read the story

The Boston Symphony Orchestra gave its first concert in 1881. Musicians worked together to make a large sound. Concerts became part of the city's cultural life. An orchestra includes many kinds of skilled work.

Henry Lee Higginson helped establish the orchestra. Institutions grow through performers, staff, supporters, and audiences. Ask whose music gets performed and who can participate as listeners or musicians.

Think, talk, and show evidence

1. State the main idea. Support it with two details from the reading.
2. Explain a change or challenge described in the text. Which words support your answer?
3. Use one vocabulary word in a new sentence about this event.
4. What can the image and caption help explain? What can they not tell you?

Follow-up reading: Basketball begins in Springfield

1891

James Naismith created basketball in Springfield. He wanted an indoor game for students during cold weather. The first version used peach baskets. The rules and equipment changed as more people played.

An invention's first form can differ from its modern version. Basketball spread through educational and community networks. Study early rules before assuming today's game existed from the beginning.

Compare the two readings. Explain one similarity or difference using a detail from each. Their order does not prove that one caused the other.
