Answer guidance

Factual anchor: Many Boston police officers stopped work during a labor dispute. Disorder followed. Governor Calvin Coolidge called in the State Guard. The event brought national attention to conflicts over work and public safety. Investigate officers' working conditions alongside government responses. Coolidge's public statements reveal his position, not every participant's experience. A source's authority does not make it neutral.

Accept accurate main ideas and explanations supported by the text. Vocabulary meanings are in the opening word bank. For picture questions, use the caption and credit below; distinguish what is visible from what is inferred. For comparison, accept a specific connection supported by both readings. Do not require personal accounts of trauma.
