Read the story

The Wampanoag Tribe of Gay Head, Aquinnah, gained federal recognition. Community members had worked for this outcome. Recognition changed the government relationship; it did not create the people or their history.

Aquinnah's tribal community existed long before 1987. Federal recognition is a legal and political status, not a test of whether Indigenous identity is real. Learn from the Tribe's account of its work.

Think, talk, and show evidence

1. State the main idea. Support it with two details from the reading.
2. Explain a change or challenge described in the text. Which words support your answer?
3. Use one vocabulary word in a new sentence about this event.
4. What can the image and caption help explain? What can they not tell you?

Follow-up reading: Michael Dukakis runs for president

1988

Massachusetts governor Michael Dukakis became the Democratic presidential nominee. He lost the general election to George H. W. Bush. The campaign connected state leadership with national politics.

Winning a party nomination is different from winning the presidency. Compare campaign claims with records and outcomes. Political disagreement does not remove the need for accurate evidence.

Compare the two readings. Explain one similarity or difference using a detail from each. Their order does not prove that one caused the other.
